Tasting note

Blackcurrant and blackberry are lifted by bay leaf, cedar and dark chocolate. Medium-bodied and polished, the wine has soft, velvety tannins, clear fruit flavours and a long, gently savoury finish.

The producer

Larry and Edwina Cherubino founded their Western Australian winery in 2005. The Pedestal range explores Margaret River's regional character, placing bright fruit and aromatic expression at the centre of wines with restrained oak influence.

Winemaking

Machine-harvested fruit is berry-sorted and spends two weeks on skins before pressing. Following malolactic fermentation, the wine matures for nine months in three-year-old French oak barrels before preparation for bottling.

Food pairing

Roast beef, rosemary lamb, braised meats or grilled portobello mushrooms.
