Tasting note

Quince and pear meet peach, apricot and a hint of vanilla. Skin contact brings a firm, dry texture, balanced by bright fruit and a fresh, lingering finish.

The producer

Philip and Elvira Cox lead Cramele Recaș in western Romania. The winery combines established vineyards with modern facilities and an experimental approach to winemaking.

Winemaking

Fermentation on the skins lasts around three and a half weeks, using clay amphorae and stainless steel. The blend then spends two months in used French oak before bottling.

Food pairing

Tuna steak, roast chicken, spiced cauliflower or mature hard cheese.
