Tasting note

Lemon, lime and crunchy green apple bring freshness, with juicy peach adding a little softness. Light in body but full of flavour, this is a dry, lively Riesling with clear mineral character. The long, refreshing finish makes it equally appealing with food or as an aperitif.

The producer

The Dönnhoff family has farmed in Oberhausen on the River Nahe for generations. Helmut established the estate's international reputation, and his son Cornelius now leads the work. Careful vineyard management and restrained winemaking reveal the character of the Nahe's varied soils.

Winemaking

Fruit comes from stony slopes in the middle Nahe, with volcanic rock, slate and quartzite soils. The grapes are selectively handpicked and gently pressed. Fermentation and maturation in stainless steel and large oak casks preserve freshness while adding texture.

Food pairing

Grilled fish, sushi, prawns, fresh salads or chicken with lemon and herbs.
