Tasting note

Delicate pale pink, with white peach, wild strawberry and a fresh citrus lift. The palate is light and dry, bringing together juicy summer berries and pink grapefruit before a crisp, refreshing finish. An easy-going rosé with enough flavour to carry through an unhurried lunch.

The producer

Based in Provence, Estandon brings together growers who pool their vineyard knowledge and winemaking expertise. The name has been associated with the region's wines since 1947. Le Rollier takes its name from the colourful European roller bird, linking this approachable rosé to its Mediterranean surroundings.

Winemaking

Grapes are harvested in the cool of the night, with brief skin contact giving the wine its pale pink colour. After gentle pressing and cold settling, the juice ferments in temperature-controlled stainless steel. Malolactic fermentation is blocked to preserve the bright acidity and fresh fruit character.

Food pairing

Grilled prawns, Niçoise salad, vegetable skewers or goat's cheese. Also lovely as a chilled aperitif.
